It will enable the Company to align its capital structure with its current financial position, reflecting a more accurate representation of its reserves and surplus, and facilitate greater financial flexibility, including the ability to declare dividends in the future, subject to applicable laws.

The Scheme will enable the Company to eliminate Accumulated Losses from its books of account and present a true and fair view of its financial position. It will also facilitate alignment of the Company's reserves with its current financial position and provide greater financial flexibility for future operations, including the ability to declare dividends, subject to applicable laws.

8.1. On approval of the Scheme by NCLT, the books of the Company will represent its financial position which would help the Company position itself better in the market and undertake business activities efficiently. 8.2. The adjustment or set-off of Securities Premium Account would not have any impact on the shareholding pattern and the capital structure of the Company.
